

LOOTING CARRIED ON BY THE SAVAGE PATHAN TRIBES

Ex-GI from Brooklyn and Denver Wins Battle Despite the Odds

FIGHTING IS STILL ON

Opposing Indian Army Has Modern Equipment; His Tribes Do Not

Russell Haight, ex-GI from Brooklyn and Denver, led primitively-equipped Moslems and wild Pathan tribesmen, against the planes, artillery, and machine guns of the Indian army. So successful was the American soldier of fortune that he was promoted from captain to brigadier general of the Azad (Free) Kashmir army in one jump.

(In the fourth article of his series Haight tells of looting by the savage Pathans and how he won a battle despite the fact that the Indian army had modern equipment and his did not. Haight has just returned from Kashmir where fighting still rages between the Hindus and Moslems.)

DENVER, Feb. 13 — (INS) — I watched the wild Pathan tribesmen pillage the town of Kotli and carry off its women.

I could do nothing about the savagery of these troops under my command. This had gone on evidently for several thousands of years, and I could see no end to it for a thousand years more. Even the British gave up trying to stop it.

I had thought we were liberating the town. But when we drove out the Hindu troops there were no joyful demonstrations by the townspeople to greet us.

The men had all been killed or captured by the Indian army. And the women sat patiently in their homes and waited for the Pathans. And so the Pathans took over. First they looted the bazaar, seizing clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils — anything they could carry.

Then they turned to the homes. What they could not move, they destroyed.

Next came the livestock — water buffalo and mules — and the poultry. And finally the women.

There were no useless struggles. No vain series of protest. When the Pathans had had their way, they selected the best-looking among their victims and carried them off.

I was told the tribesmen would sell the women on the market in Peshawar as "labibis" — "red women."

Then I saw my forces disintegrate before my eyes. Within a few hours all of my 1500 Pathans were on their way back to the hills with their booty. I had only my 500 British-trained regulars left.

When I went back to Rawalpindi to complain, I found that I had been promoted to brigadier general. It was a nice jump from a captaincy, so I didn't complain too hard.

And I was given more Pathans. These savage tribesmen would come down from the hills only for the capture and pillage of one town at

Lives of Washington And Lincoln Considered

Dr. J. Lawrence Pitt, secretary of the Scottish Rite, Trenton, N. J., was the guest speaker at the Rotary Club in the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon, when he spoke on the lives of both Washington and Lincoln.

"A nation is never greater than the heroes to which it looks," Dr. Pitt pointed out, "but our problem today is to overcome the dilution of the American ideals that motivated the lives of these two great men."

"We must see these two great men, as great as any ever born, except Christ, as moving, living, inspiring figures carrying forth the ideals of this country, and we must instill the great attributes of these two figures in the minds of our youth."

"Both of these national heroes did the job of each day as it came along... they were not looking for something for nothing as too many of us appear to be doing today."

"And both of these men were men of principle and not of expediency. Today we find too few such men in the political life of our country. Today we need men of principle more than ever before."

"Lastly, both Washington and Lincoln were men of humbleness. The Bible was the prime volume on their book shelves and its words are reflected in the messages and actions of both men."

Guests were present from Bordentown and Trenton for the meeting yesterday. Vice-president Warren Woodruff was in charge.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Inflation still is a major threat despite the break in commodity prices, President Truman said yesterday.

President Truman was denounced by Republicans and Democrats alike. Mississippi Democrats booed the President in calling on "all true white Jeffersonian Democrats" to oppose his civil rights program.

Personal income reached a new high of $197,000,000,000 last year, the Commerce Department reported.

A system of multi-lateral pacts between this country and the sixteen European nations to receive Marshall Plan aid was written into the European Recovery Program Bill by a Senate committee. Among other restrictive clauses was one making aid contingent on continued co-operation and self-help.

Britain announced a plan to freeze prices at levels of last year-end and urged labor to defer wage demands. French labor asked pay increases while the Government was pushing its price-control bill through the Assembly. Italy's Cabinet approved the principle of a customs union with France. In Berlin the Allied Control Council was said to have made progress toward German-wide currency reform.

SLUMP, BUDGET AND TAXES

Truman press-agents have been quick to seize upon the recent slump in commodity and stock prices as an excuse for misleading, false and dangerous propaganda.

For one thing, they argue that the slump means the end of inflation. This is wholly untrue. Money is as badly inflated as ever. So is national credit. The perils are precisely as great as ever. One good day doesn't mean the patient is cured.

For another, they argue that the recession proves taxes mustn't be cut. They say that if the dollar-volume of business declines, we will need a high tax rate to bring in the necessary revenues.

As to the Marshall Plan, which on the face of things could be reduced as prices decline, they have made the very silly assertion that the experts which drafted that program foresaw the present lower price-levels, and tailored their requests for funds in accordance. That claim is too preposterous to be worth discussing.

The slump proves none of these things. But it does prove something quite different. It proves that the national budget is fantastically high.

What the slump serves as is a red light to warn the American people that conditions in this nation are unsound; and further, that we have no assurance whatever business activity is going to maintain its present level.

The Truman budget calls for an expenditure next year of upwards of $50,000,000,000—the exact figure can't be stated for two reasons: first, not all his requests are before Congress; second, the budget itself is tricky and deceptive.

Now, back of this budget was the assumption that business volume in the United States next year would be about the same as that for the past year, or approximately $200 billion.

What the slump should make clear is that there is no solid ground for assuming that the earnings of the American people will reach anywhere near the $200 billion goal.

The budget is one-fourth of the earnings which President Truman has in mind.

But suppose business falls far short of that level?

Suppose it is only $150 billion?

Then the budget, instead of being one-fourth, would be one-third of all the earnings of all the American people—they would be working for Uncle Sam four months out of the year, instead of three.

Plans for $15,000 Skating Rink Did Not Advance Far, However

CHURCHES IN LEAD

Two Structures Under Way For Religious Purposes Listed at $108,000

The year 1947 witnessed much building in Bristol despite the shortages of various materials used in construction. According to the records of the building inspector of Bristol borough, the total value of construction work done in the borough in 1947 exceeded $500,000. It should be explained, however, that among the permits issued was one for a structure valued at $15,000 which did not get very far advanced.

This was plans for a proposed skating rink.

The building construction started here in 1947 was unusual in the fact that churches led in values, there being two structures underway for religious purposes, estimated in value at $108,000. The next highest amount was spent for garages, this being $66,500, while sales and service buildings, valued at $40,500 were next.

Others included: Dwellings, $58,500; apartments, $21,500; club house addition, $16,000; warehouse, $10,000; barber shop, $3,300; building at recreation park, $5,000; shops, $14,800; bungalows, $28,000; repair shops, $1900; offices, $2,000; stores, $450; remodeling stores, $300; various additions, $5,500; cafes and tap-rooms, $16,000; stores and apartments, $30,000; small stores, $2600; porch remodeling, $499; various alterations, $20,875.

Busy Session Is Held By Intermediate Scouts

Intermediate Girl Scouts of Troop No. 59, Patrol No. 1, met Wednesday evening at the home of their leader, Mrs. James Patton, Linden street. Charlotte Smith, assistant patrol leader, was in charge, with treasurer, Rita Delaney, collecting dues and camp savings.

The members have almost finished their child care badges. They are now making stocking dolls as part of this activity. They chose "Dramatics" as the next badge project, and will start it by attending a stage play Feb. 28th, starring Peggy Ann Garner, famous child actress.

Camp plans were discussed; also ways of earning funds to go camping for a week instead of a weekend. Several crafts were decided upon. Girls of this patrol will assist the leader at camp with other patrols, several having charge of activities and games.

Jan Esterline, scribe, will conduct several broadcasting systems to gain information on radio programs suitable for girls to listen to. At the next meeting Eunice Kelly will give a biography of Peggy Ann Garner, so that the girls will feel they know more about her when they attend her forthcoming play.

The next meeting will be at the home of Joan Esterline, Rath street. Patrol No. 2 will meet at the home of Etta Mae Coombs to finish work on their clothing badges. They are making aprons, toys, and patch-holders. Nancy Stiles will conduct a discussion on correct laundry methods. Joanne Hyde and Rose Anna Mills will have charge of games.

Bristol and Bensalem Townships to Enact Ordinances
In Near Future

TO CONTROL DRAINS

Supervisors of both Bristol and Bensalem townships are to consider an ordinance for their respective districts which will be presented in the near future at meetings of each group in their districts.

Supervisors of Bensalem Township will meet Tuesday morning at nine o'clock in the office of J. Alfred Rigby, secretary, in Cornwells Heights, to consider the ordinance, while Bristol Township supervisors will meet March 5th in the Newportville Inn at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The girls were attractively gowned. As part of the ceremony, Ruth Johnson, who served as worthy advisor for the past year, was crowned with ivy, symbolizing victory and success. She was presented with a bouquet.

The newly-elected worthy advisor, Anna Mae Swan, was installed as Ruth Johnson and Hester Wright sang "In the Garden of Tomorrow." Miss Swan received a bouquet of American beauty roses from the assembly, also a bouquet from her parents.

Mrs. Howard Coombs received a bouquet she being re-installed as mother advisor.

SLUMP, BUDGET AND TAXES

Truman press-agents have been quick to seize upon the recent slump in commodity and stock prices as an excuse for misleading, false and dangerous propaganda.

For one thing, they argue that the slump means the end of inflation. This is wholly untrue. Money is as badly inflated as ever. So is national credit. The perils are precisely as great as ever. One good day doesn't mean the patient is cured.

For another, they argue that the recession proves taxes mustn't be cut. They say that if the dollar-volume of business declines, we will need a high tax rate to bring in the necessary revenues.

As to the Marshall Plan, which on the face of things could be reduced as prices decline, they have made the very silly assertion that the experts which drafted that program foresaw the present lower price-levels, and tailored their requests for funds in accordance. That claim is too preposterous to be worth discussing.

The slump proves none of these things. But it does prove something quite different. It proves that the national budget is fantastically high.

What the slump serves as is a red light to warn the American people that conditions in this nation are unsound; and further, that we have no assurance whatever business activity is going to maintain its present level.

The Truman budget calls for an expenditure next year of upwards of $50,000,000,000—the exact figure can't be stated for two reasons: first, not all his requests are before Congress; second, the budget itself is tricky and deceptive.

Now, back of this budget was the assumption that business volume in the United States next year would be about the same as that for the past year, or approximately $200 billion.

What the slump should make clear is that there is no solid ground for assuming that the earnings of the American people will reach anywhere near the $200 billion goal.

The budget is one-fourth of the earnings which President Truman has in mind.

But suppose business falls far short of that level?

Suppose it is only $150 billion?

Then the budget, instead of being one-fourth, would be one-third of all the earnings of all the American people—they would be working for Uncle Sam four months out of the year, instead of three.

Due to the lack of registrants, the Bristol Adult School will not be opened this term.

CONSTRUCTION IN BRISTOL IN 1947 EXCEEDS $500,000

Plans for $15,000 Skating
Rink Did Not Advance
Far, However

CHURCHES IN LEAD

Two Structures Under Way For Religious Purposes Listed at $108,000

The year 1947 witnessed much building in Bristol despite the shortages of various materials used in construction. According to the records of the building inspector of Bristol borough, the total value of construction work done in the borough in 1947 exceeded $500,000. It should be explained, however, that among the permits issued was one for a structure valued at $15,000 which did not get very far advanced.

This was plans for a proposed skating rink.

The building construction started here in 1947 was unusual in the fact that churches led in values, there being two structures under way for religious purposes, estimated in value at $108,000. The next highest amount was spent for garages, this being $66,500, while sales and service buildings, valued at $40,500 were next.

Others included: Dwellings, $55,500; apartments, $21,500; club house addition, $14,000; warehouse, $10,000; barber shop, $3,300; building at recreation park, $5,000; shops, $14,800; bungalows, $28,000; repair shops, $1900; offices, $2,000; stores, $450; remodeling stores, $300; various additions, $9,500; cafes and tap-rooms, $16,000; stores and apartments, $30,000; small stores, $2600; porch remodeling, $490; various alterations, $20,875.

Busy Season is Held By Intermediate Scouts

Intermediate Girl Scouts of Troop No. 50, Patrol No. 1, met Wednesday evening at the home of their leader, Mrs. James Patton, Linden street. Charlotte Smith, assistant patrol leader, was in charge, with treasurer, Rita Delaney, collecting dues and camp savings.

The members have almost finished their child care badges. They are now making stocking dolls as part of this activity. They chose "Dramatics" as the next badge project, and will start it by attending a stage play Feb. 28th, starring Peggy Ann Garner, famous child actress.

Camp plans were discussed; also ways of earning funds to go camping for a week instead of a week-end. Several crafts were decided upon. Girls of this patrol will assist the leader at camp with other patrols, several having charge of activities and games.

Jan Esterline, scribe, will conduct several broadcasting systems to gain information on radio to listen to. At the next meeting Eunice Kelly will give a biography of Peggy Ann Garner, so that the girls will feel they know more about her when they attend her forthcoming play.

The next meeting will be at the home of Joan Esterline, Bath street. Patrol No. 2 will meet at the home of Etta Mae Coombs to finish work on their clothing badges. They are making aprons, toys, and pet-holders. Nancy States will conduct a discussion on correct laundry methods Joanne Hyde and Rose Anna Mills will have charge of games.

Patrol No. 3 members will meet at the home of Winnie McCue. They also are making aprons, toys and pet-holders. Discussion will be in charge of "Betty" Kelley (care of clothing), and "Betty" Deitrich (personal laundry).

Warns Dog Owners To Get Licenses for 1948

George B. Matthews, State Enforcement Agent, issued the following warning for dog owners in Bucks County.

"Your 1948 dog licenses became due January 16, 1948. They may be secured through the treasurer of Bucks County, Doylestown, Pa.

"The Department of Agriculture is planning its annual round-up of unlicensed dogs which will become operative on or about February 15. In the meantime, dog owners should make application for their licenses. Persons found owning or harboring unlicensed dogs will be prosecuted. All dogs not bearing a current license tag are considered strays and may be disposed of by any officer on sight. The law requires owners to put the license tag on the dog's collar to be worn at all times."

"By keeping dogs under control at all times, thousands of dollars will be saved annually in livestock, poultry and property damage."

COMES VALENTINE'S DAY

Deflation has not yet set in in the local Valentine market especially as to quotations on comic valentines. There was a time when a kid could insult his teacher, the cop on the corner and the crabby lady living next door all for a cent apiece. But not any more, a survey of valentine vendors reveals that comic valentines are selling for as high as a nickel each.

And the real fancy kind, the valentines with lace and hearts and cupid which lovers, sweethearts—and even some married folks—send each other are selling for as high as a dollar. According to one local youth who was overheard at a counter today, that's too much.

"A buck's a lot of dough to shell out for a valentine just to tell a girl you love her," he complained. "Way too much." Well, that's inflation for you.

The whole thing started, according to the reference books, during the Roman Feast of Luperc-alia, celebrated in the memory of Juno. The young Roman bobby-sox crowd would gather around a big urn and draw out tablets with names on them.

On each tablet was the name of a girl, and the lucky fellow drawing her name was supposed to be her boy friend for a whole year.
This festival was held near the anniversary of St. Valentine's death, and it was finally merged with St. Valentine's Day until it became the practice of choosing sweethearts on this special occasion.

NATURE IS WONDERFUL

Only a prophet can say whether the recent decline in commodity prices heralds the end of the inflationary boom.

But any man with reasonably good eyesight can see the change which dropping grain prices have wrought in Washington, D. C.
Every vestige of enthusiasm for price controls and rationing has disappeared overnight.

The administration has remained discreetly silent—chiefly because President Truman is too deeply committed to his anti-inflation program to back-track on such short notice. Other leading proponents of controls are beating a hasty retreat.

Garrulous old Bernard Baruch, who came out in favor of a stiffer program of government controls only a few days ago, has asked to be excused from testifying before a committee which was caught in the midst of hearings on rationing when commodities started to decline.

Present market trends, the old boy says, may make the need for price controls "less pressing." Senator Tobey of New Hampshire has gone even further. The leading Republican advocate of controls now says: "It is elementary.
Nature will take care of things."

Nature probably will—whether or not it is to the satisfaction of politicians or ordinary people. But it is interesting to note that advocates of controls have sense enough to duck when natural economic forces start swinging.

Slump, Budget and Taxes

Even $150 billion annual earnings are fantastically high by comparison with any normal year in American history. Annual earnings, in normally prosperous times, run between $80 and $100 billions.

If that is the case, and the budget is untrimmed, then we will be in the unhappy situation of seeing the government pledged to spend from half to five-eighths of all the earnings in the country.

In hard times, national income has fallen far below any of the above figures. During the depression, for example, THERE WERE YEARS IN WHICH THE ENTIRE NATIONAL IN-COME WAS LESS THAN THE PRESENT TRUMAN BUD-GET!

As long as the tide was running with the Truman predictions, there may have been some faint justification for letting the budget stand with only token reductions.

But now that the tide has turned, now that the light has shifted from green to red, it is a matter of self-preservation for the budget to be slashed, and slashed to the bone.

Bristol Banker Is Named Group Head

stock prices will be. Furthermore, he declared, "if inflationary forces are still strong late in the spring, our prospects will be much more serious because in the second quarter the Treasury, even at present tax rate, will be paying out more than it will be taking in."

Richard G. Burn, president, First National Bank of Media, and chairman of Group 2, warned that "borrow, borrow, borrow" advertising of many banks could make more loans and more inflation inseparable in public mind.

"Perhaps the time has come," he said, "when the banks should urge many of their borrowers to get out of debt, before they are caught in the mesh of falling prices and declining employment."

Declaring that "the real cure for inflation is to reduce dollars, increase production, or do both at the same time," Burn went on to say that "increased production will raise real wages and produce for us a higher standard of living." He warned that more bank credit at a time when industry is producing at near capacity "can only mean higher prices."

Freas B. Snyder, president, Phila. Chapter, American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, outlined necessity for, and method of, proper real estate appraisals.

Fill 2 Posts on Health Board at Newtown Boro'

NEWTOWN, Feb. 13.—Named to fill vacancies in Newtown borough board of health last week were Clarence Krewson and John P. Ogelsby. The appointments were made by borough council at its session.

Report was made by the street committee that in addition to general work, opening gutters and removing snow and ice had claimed the attention of the employees. Conditions at the Penn street and Lincoln avenue crossings were called to the attention of the Reading Railroad Company.

Chief Burgess Walter E. Scott, who presented the police report for the month, said he had attended a Public Utility Commission hearing in reference to replacing certain trains by bus. Mr. Scott reported possibilities that the Richmond Bus Company may provide transportation service from Yardley to Newtown.

Fire Chief Harrison Ettenger reported that the local firemen had responded to two fire alarms in this borough and to one in Yardley.

Council decided to have the borough solicitor draw up an ordinance which will prohibit parking on the North side of Washington avenue.

Borough Treasurer W. Aubrey Merrick reported a balance of $3,724 in the general fund, $143.97 in the Linton Memorial Fountain fund, and $305.82 in the poll tax account.

'New Look' Becomes A Motorists' Lament Today

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—(INS)—The "new look" became a motorists' lament today.

A spokesman for the American Automobile Association said flatly that the lowered hemlines are lowering the chances of their wearers for survival as pedestrians.

Burton W. Marsh, traffic engineer and safety director for the auto club, said women with the "old look" shorter skirts are more likely to stay alive and uninjured under present traffic conditions.

Marsh explained: "One of the reasons for this is that feminine legs, clad in light-colored stockings, catch the car driver's eye, particularly at night. "But the 'new look' becomes a hazard to nighttime drivers, especially if the long skirts are made of dark material. He doesn't have the same chance of noticing the pedestrian in time to avoid an accident."

But Marsh went further in his "technical" fault-finding with the "new look."

A poor driver, he said, perhaps blinded by the headlights of an approaching car can't tell whether the dark object ahead is a tree trunk, a rock, or "merely a young lady anchored to mother earth by yards and yards of material."

A short skirt-wearing woman isn't likely to be mistaken for a tree trunk, rock, telephone pole, stray moose or cigar store Indian, Marsh contended.

The only trouble in the short-skirted days, he added, was the danger that a driver would recognize a trim pair of gams, blink, whistle, and run into another car, a wall, or whatever happened to be ahead.

So, Marsh said, it's up to the women. All he wants to tell them is that the "new look" may be their last look if they aren't careful as pedestrians at night.

M., at the Office of J. Alfred Rigby, Secretary, Frankford and Bristol Turnpike, Cornwells Heights:

ORDINANCE NO. 1
An Ordinance of the Township of Bensalem, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, prohibiting the opening, construction or dedication for public use or travel of any road, street, lane or alley, or any drainage facilities in connection therewith, except in accordance with plans submitted and approved by the Township Supervisors, prescribing the method of opening and submitting such plans and the kind and character of improvements to be made.

The Township Supervisors of the Township of Bensalem, do enact and ordain: Section 1. That no person, partnership, association or corporation shall construct, open or dedicate any road, street, lane or alley, or any drainage facilities in connection therewith, for public use or travel in the Township of Bensalem, without first submitting plans therefor to the Township Supervisors for their approval, and no road, street, lane or alley, nor sewer or drainage facilities in connection therewith shall be opened, laid or constructed except in strict accordance with plans approved by the Township Supervisors.

Section 2. Such plans shall show the profile of such roads, streets, lanes or alleys, the course, structure and capacity of any drainage facilities, the method of drainage of the surface or contiguous territory and drainage profile of the streets and roads, and shall be of a width of not less than thirty-three feet, the cartway shall be not less than sixteen (16) feet, and all roads and streets connecting with existing streets so as to form a continuation or extension thereof shall be not less in width than such existing roads and streets.

Section 3. All roads and streets where possible shall be constructed with existing roads and streets, or proposed roads and streets, so as to meet, as far as possible, through road and streets, and a harmonious and systematic development of the Township. The names of the roads and streets shall be filed in the names of existing roads and streets, and all roads and streets shall be designated by the names of existing roads and streets with which they connect as extensions thereof.

Section 4. All such plans shall be filed with the Township Secretary at least ten days prior to regular meeting of the Township Supervisors, at which it is to be taken up for approval. Before acting upon any such plans, the Township Supervisors may, in their discretion, arrange for a public hearing, after giving such notice as they may deem desirable in each case.

Section 5. Any and all plans when approved shall be signed by the Township Supervisors, and shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Township, where the same shall be available to public inspection.

Section 6. The action of the Township Supervisors in approving any such plans, and the approval of the Township Supervisors, shall be recorded by the person applying for such approval.

Section 7. All roads and streets shown on the said plan shall be improved in accordance with the plans and specifications prescribed by the Township Supervisors.

Section 8. All sewers, sewer laterals, and sewer connections shall be laid on improved streets before paving, where connection with the Township or other sewers is practicable, and shall be required by the Township Supervisors, and all water mains and all service connections shall be laid before the paving of the streets, where water gas is available, and all other mains, pipes and conduits and the like shall be installed before paving the cartway where it is proposed to install any such service mains in the streets.

Section 9. All applications for the approval of such plans shall be in writing on a blank form to be furnished for that purpose, by the Township Supervisors, and shall be signed by the owners of the property, which must be filed with the Secretary of the Township, setting forth in detail the character of the improvements to be made on the property shown on the said plan, in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, and in such application the applicant shall agree to open, lay out and construct all of the improvements, including sewers, sewer laterals, water mains, and all service facilities upon the property, shown on the plan, within the time or times therein specified, and agree to enter into a contract in writing prepared by the Township Supervisors, to install, erect and construct the said improvements. In addition, the applicant shall furnish a certificate of a reputable title insurance company, or a brief of title satisfactory to the Township Supervisors, which, at the date of approval, shall set forth the name of the owner or owners of the property covered by such plans and shall show and shall contain a list of all mortgages, judgments, liens, easements, contracts or agreements of record in the office of the Recorder of Deeds in and for Bucks County, Pennsylvania, which shall affect the property covered by such plans. If said brief of title, or the insurance company certificate, shall disclose that any such property shall be subject to any mortgage, judgment, easement, lien, contract or agreement, or other matters of record, then at the option of the Township Supervisors, the holders or owners of such mortgages, judgments, liens, easements, contracts or agreements shall be required to join in and approve said application before the same shall be acted upon by the Township Supervisors. The applicant shall furnish a bond in such amount, and on such conditions, and form, and with surety as shall be approved by the Township Supervisors, to guarantee the performance of the said contract and to secure the completion of the said improvements within the times therein specified. In lieu of a bond, the applicant may deposit cash to guarantee performance of said contract and to secure completion of improvements upon an escrow agreement to be prepared by the Township Secretary and approved by the Township Supervisors. The escrow agent for the deposits of such cash shall be designated and selected by the Township Supervisors.

Section 10. All applicants shall bear all costs of inspection of such roads, streets, lanes or alleys, and shall deposit with the Township Treasurer such sum, as the Township Supervisors shall determine, to guarantee payment of such costs, and applicant shall deposit a filing fee of application is filed, or such sum as the Supervisors shall by Resolution decide.

HULMEVILLE, Feb. 13 — With Mrs. Edward Winder and Mrs. Warren Winder serving as hostesses, the February session of the Ladies' Aid Society of Neshaminy Methodist Church took place on Tuesday evening at the home of the former.

Sportsmen's Briefs

BY JOE ELBERSON

Came to the rescue . . . thanks to the graciousness of officials of the Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, the February meeting of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association was able to proceed on schedule Tuesday evening when the Legion allowed the local sportsmen to use a meeting room at the Post home on Radcliffe street, after the regular meeting hall of the Association was found to be heatless because of lack of fuel.

Perhaps the Post would be repaid in part for this generosity if the many veterans who are members of the Association, and who are not members of the Legion, were to take the advice of a current slogan of this veteran's organization, "If you are a veteran, join the American Legion."

It was a good meeting, incidentally, with many constructive projects for the current year discussed. Several good reels of fishing pictures were shown through the courtesy of C. W. Winter at the close of the business meeting.

Combination shoot . . . this Sunday, February 15, the Edgely Rod & Gun Club will hold a combination shoot over the club traps, beginning at 1 in the afternoon, when both white flyer matches and blue rock matches will be held. All shooters are welcome. Shells will be available. You can participate in either or both shoots.

Increasing . . . according to a recent release of the Fish & Wildlife Service more persons than ever before went hunting last year. For the year which ended June 30th last a total of more than 12 million people bought hunting licenses, for which they paid more than 28 million dollars. This figure does not include what these hunters spent on guns, ammunition, apparel, travel, lodging, dogs, etc. According to Albert M. Day, director of the Service, this represents more people and more money spent for licenses than ever before in history.

Vote of thanks . . . for the campaign inaugurated by the First Tactical Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol to fly grain and bales of hay to starving game in spots in eastern Pennsylvania. The job accomplished so far by the Patrol is even more commendable when we realize that these CAP planes are contributed without charge to this errand of mercy, and the pilots also give their time free, as well as supply fuel without cost. On a smaller scale, and in more local territory, many sportsmen and clubs have been doing a splendid job in distributing food for pheasant and rabbits. Their efforts will no doubt pay some dividends next fall, in addition to the satisfaction presently derived in the undertaking.

Not at the moment . . . but soon (with the first thaw which cannot be too far away) some good sucker fishing should be in the offing along the Neshaminy Creek, particularly in the area of Hulmeville.

BLOOM'S TEAM WILL SEEK 7TH STRAIGHT

Coach "Jerry" Bloom's Bristol High team will seek its seventh straight Lower Bucks County League victory tonight on the home floor as it meets the Bensalem Owls. The preliminary game between the Junior Varsity teams of the school will get under way at 7:30 o'clock.

The Warriors have beaten every team in the loop and twice set back the Buckingham team. Tonight's battle with the Owls will be their second meeting, Bristol winning the first game handily.

Coach Bloom's proteges beat the New Jersey School for Deaf on Tuesday night but the team was not as impressive as earlier in the season. Coach Bloom is still drilling his players on his pattern style to get it down to perfection.

The Owls, under the direction of Coach "Johnny" Slaven, have been improving lately and have played close games with their rivals. The Slaven-men are confident that they will give the Warriors plenty of opposition tonight.

Coach Harold McClister's Junior Varsity team will be after their 13th straight game as it meets the Bensalem representatives. The Bristol J. V. encountered quite a bit of trouble in their first meeting with the Owlettes and the fracas tonight is expected to be close.

After tonight, Bristol has five more games remaining on its schedule, meeting Southampton, Morrisville, Fallsington, Trenton Catholic, and Camden Catholic. Morrisville and Camden Catholic will be away games.

BLOOM'S TEAM WILL SEEK 7TH STRAIGHT

Coach "Jerry" Bloom's Bristol High team will seek its seventh straight Lower Bucks County League victory tonight on the home floor as it meets the Bensalem Owls. The preliminary game between the Junior Varsity teams of the school will get under way at 7:30 o'clock.

The Warriors have beaten every team in the loop and twice set back the Buckingham team. Tonight's battle with the Owls will be their second meeting. Bristol winning the first game hands.

Coach Bloom's proteges beat the New Jersey School for Deaf on Tuesday night but the team was not as impressive as earlier in the season. Coach Bloom is still drilling his players on his pattern style to get it down to perfection.

The Owls, under the direction of Coach "Johnny" Slaven, have been improving lately and have played close games with their rivals. The Slaven-men are confident that they will give the Warriors plenty of opposition tonight.

Coach Harold McClister's Junior Varsity team will be after their 13th straight game as it meets the Bensalem representatives. The Bristol J. V. encountered quite a bit of trouble in their first meeting with the Owlettes and the fracas tonight is expected to be close.

After tonight, Bristol has five more games remaining on its schedule, meeting Southampton, Morrisville, Fallington, Trenton Catholic, and Camden Catholic. Morrisville and Camden Catholic will be away games.
